DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS FAVOR [[A WIDE-OPEN CONVENTION

Attorney-General Palmer the Only emocrat in the Presidential Race Seeking Instructed Delegates.

PROFIT BY ENEMY'S BLUNDERS

Leaders Indorse Attitude of McAdoo and Hoover, Who Want the Delegates Free to Choose Best Man and Strongest Platform.

BY J. PREDERICK ESSARY. . WASHINGTON, March 14.-A free, independent and totally wideopen concandidate for the presidency, is the program of the potential leaders of the Democratic party, and to that end these leaders have agreed upon a plan San Francisco lu June, except in such instances as individual States may have favorite sons.

Party dactors friendly to Herbert Hoover have taken this position; William G. McAdoo, among the foremost bas raken the same of the availables, has taken the same position; former Speaker Champ Clark figs fallen lato fine and most. Demogratic members of the House and Senfre have become, convinced that party interests can best be served if the convention is not divided into militant factions before it even assembles.

Millitunt Palmer Men.

Militant Palmer Men.

Only one group of Democrats has refused to estent to this policy. It is composed of the Schling ferces behind the condidacy of Attorney-General A Mitchell Palmer. They propose to wage war for the nomination of the Pennsylvanian all along the line and have organized a campaign committee for the purpose, which is asking no quarter and giving none.

The fact is, Mr. Palmer is today the offset aggressive of all the Democratic presidential possibilities. He is the offly straight administration representative who has frankly avowed his willingness to receive the mantle of President Wilson, Governor Cox, of Ohio, and Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, are openly seeking the nomination, but neither is associated directly with the administration, nor expects support from those who surround the President.

President.

In many respects the candidacy of Mr. Palmer is projected along the lines of that of General Leonard Wood for the Republican nomination. Each is forcing the light upon a nation-wide basis. Each is each signing in "enemy" territory, and is backed by powatful party interests. It is apparent that the Wood people have far greater resources in the matter of money than Mr. Palmer, but he has no more energetic organization than that of the Attorney-General.

For an "Open" Convention.

In order to make the most of this possibility far-seeing Democratic politicians are agreed that the San Francisco convention should keep an open mind respecting both its own candidate and its own platform. The expressed views of Mr. McAdoo on the subject to represent the best party opinion at this time. These views were given by him in a telegram to the Democratth State Central Committee, which & & decided that inasmuch as California is to be the host to the convention, that State should send an uninstructed delegation to San Francisco. In reply Mr. McAdoo said:

"I heartily approve the action of the Democratic State Central Committee in declaring for an uninstructed delegation to the next Democratic National Convention. I shall gladly comply with your request that I prevent as far as I have the power to do so, the filing in my behalf of any petition. About the same time Mr. McAdoo sent telegram to friends in Indiana, who had explained why his name had not been filed in the Indiana primaries, saying:

"You did exactly the right thing in Miss Emmett was speaking on the subject of "War and the Social Grder" in relation to the follow-up work of the war as undertaken by the Society of Friends.

It was the belief of the committee.

Democracy's Advantage.

Democratic leaders are convinced that they enjoy a distinct advantage that they enjoy a distinct advantage of the convention of the opposition opposition of the opposition of the opposition of the opposition opposition of the opposition o face. He comes to look upon human the fact that the criminal or semi-criminal has not the intellect and will that his stronger brother has and is not able to put aside the habits of is not able to put aside the habits of his trench life combine to make the path of crime the easiest one to follow. At the first opportunity to commit a crime he easily succumbs to the temptation and lets neither violence nor human life stand between him and his object.

Criminals Eulogized.

Besides all this, it must not be forgotten that we are living in an age when the criminal is being made a hero on our stage. Crook dramas and detective stories are being portrayed with sensational and oftentimes sentimental rot, both in the theaters and chimas. It is no wonder if many of our weaker brethren look upon themselves, as heroes or "said creatures of elves as heroes or "sad creatures of Lombroso, Ferraro, Coriat. Musso

About the same time Mr. McAdoo sent in telegram to friends in Indiana, who had explained why his name had not been lifed in the Indiana primaries.

"You did exactly the right thing in not filing a petition to place me in the Indian presidential primary. You instructed delegates. Your action, therefore was antirely in line with my desires."

One Crook an Adoinis.

One Crook an Adoints.

We who have had experience in dealing with the criminal classes know this is all poetic muttering. We have seen criminals with the classic features of an Adonis; a mentality equal to the most learned college professor. In this connection, I recall a client, who after we had traced and captured a thief who had broken into his home, at the work of the client who after we had traced and captured at the work of the work of the client, who after we had traced and captured at the work of the work of the work of the client of the work agree with me when I say that crime did not thrive in the days when the nightstick and long sentences were in vogue—and Lombroso and the sentimental playwright still unheard of. In those days in New York a crime wave lasted just one day, for the authorities gave the work tay the city was clean.

Mr. Ezekiel, in suggesting the honoring of Hunt by giving the hospital his name, brings out the point that the big institution adjoins the site of the old theater, which stood where Monumental Episcopal Church was later erected as a tomb and memorial to those who died in the fire. those who died in the fire.

"What could be more appropriate," said Mr. Ezekiei, "than that this man's heroism should be pernetuated almost upon the identical ground where it was performed? In addition, it would show the world that we in Richmond are ready and willing to concede to every one what is right and proper, even when it is an humble negro slave who deserves to be honored."

Superintendent Moriok was highly pleased last night at the suggestion, and is anxious that other citizens of Richmond also offer suggestions for naming the new negro paylion.

Add to Virginia Customs District.

Advices have been received by Norman R. Hamilton, collector of the port, that under a recent order Alexandria, has been piaced in customs district No. 13, of which he is the head. Herefore Alexandria has been in the Maryland district because it is nearer Ealtimore than Norfolk.

The district of which Mr. Hamilton is collector now embraces the whole of Virginia.

Victim of "Sleeping Sickness." WASHINGTON, March 11.—Mrs. Charles P. Timberlake, wife of Representative Timberlake, of the Second Colorado District, died here tonight from so-called "sleeping sickness." The disease, which followed an attack of influenza, developed about two weeks ago. It was the first case of its kind on record here. IN HOSPITAL NAME Propose Naming Negro Pavilion After Gilbert Hunt, Former Slave.

That the new $270,000 hospital for negroes now being equipped at Thirteenth and Marshall Streets be named after Gilbert Hunt, the heroic negro blacksmith, who saved scores of lives at the risk of his own during the Richmond Theater disagter on Christmas Eve, 1811, is the first suggestion made in response to the request of Superintendent Fred B. Morlok, of Memorial Hospital, through The Times-Dispatch.

Herbert T. Ezekiel is the first to suggest a name for the new hospital, which opens its doors on June 1. The building is the first exclusively for the colored race on such an elaborate scale to be erected in the South. As it was made possible through the generosity of the people of Richmond, the executive confmittee of the board of visitors of the Medical College of Virginia, under whose supervision it was erected, will adopt a name suggested by off of the citizens of this city.

Gilbert Hunt, whose memory Mr. Ezekiel proposes to honor, was a siave in a prominent Richmond family. Together with Dr. J. B. McCaw, he was recognized as the hero of the theater catastrophe in which seventy-two, including Governor Smith, were killed. Call "Randolph 1."
